

ECHO 2012 is a non-profit association who wants to promote friendship and peace through Internet-based art projects where children interact through working with art, digital tools and social media. We now invite schools to participate in the Internet exhibition "All together"! Pupils tell through images and short text how they want their school to be for everyone to feel comfortable and happy at school. Exhibition day is December 10th Our goal is to expose the exhibition in a public place within 2011. The teacher is responsible to collect consent from the parents / guardians to show the art work on the website.

"ALL TOGETHER!" INTERNET-BASED SCHOOL EXHIBITION: YOUR SCHOOL IS YOUR WORLD.

- Explain in picture and short text how your school can be a good and safe place for ALL. Use concrete examples and write your text in the picture.
- A good environment is up to you and it's up to me. What can YOU do?

PARENTAL CONSENT

My child's text and drawing (art work) can be exposed in the Internet-based exhibition "All TOGETHER!" for exposure in schools and other public areas.

I further agree that ECHO 2012 may expose my child's digital art work (only approved materials from the school) on websites, in publications and films etc. with the intent to expose the child's thoughts about friendship and to inspire other schools / organizations / youth clubs to participate in new arts-based friendship projects through ECHO 2012. This consent is only for the teachers. Group materials will be credited by the name of the school. My child's art work is to be credited:

- Only first name, age and nationality
- Full name, age and nationality
- I do not want my child to be credited
